Interim Value	The value of an Index Strategy on any Valuation Day during an Index Strategy Term other than the Index Strategy Start Date and Index Strategy End Date. There are many external factors that impact the Interim Value including changes in the indices, changes in the interest rate environment, and volatility. Refer to the prospectus for further explanation.
Death Benefit	Return-of-premium death benefit is available on all contracts at no additional cost. ¹ The rules for calculating the AB 500 Plus IndexSM include an annual 0.75% reduction, which accrues daily, meaning that a small portion of that reduction is included in the published Index Value each day. The reduction is included to aid in setting the cap and participation rates and/or buffer levels of the Index Strategy with which the Index is used. Please see the prospectus for additional details.

An investment in the Prudential Series Fund PGIM Government Money Market Portfolio—Class III is neither insured nor guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The fund's sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time. Although the Portfolio seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $10.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the Portfolio.

Buffer	Negative Index Return is protected from loss within the buffer associated with the selected index strategy. Available buffers, which may vary by index strategy, are 5%, 10%, 15%, 20%, 30%, and 100%.
Point-to-Point with Cap Rate	If the Index Return is positive and equal to or greater than the Cap Rate, then the index credit is equal to the Cap Rate. If the Index Return is positive, but less than the Cap Rate, the index credit is equal to the Index Return. If the Index Return is negative, but less than or equal to the buffer, the index credit is zero. Otherwise, the index credit is equal to the negative Index Return in excess of the buffer. The Cap Rate is the maximum rate that may be credited to this strategy.
Enhanced Cap Rate	If the Index Return is positive and greater than or equal to the Cap Rate plus the Spread, the Index Credit is equal to the Cap Rate. If the Index Return is positive and greater than the Spread, but less than the Cap Rate plus the Spread, the Index Credit is equal to the Index Return minus the Spread. If the Index Return is greater than or equal to zero, and less than or equal to the Spread, the Index Credit is zero. The Spread does not apply when Index Return is zero or negative. If the Index Return is negative, but less than or equal to the Buffer, the Index Credit is zero. Otherwise, the Index Credit is equal to the negative Index Return in excess of the Buffer.
Dual Directional	If the Index Return is positive and equal to or greater than the Cap Rate, then the Index Credit is equal to the Cap Rate. If the Index Return is positive, but less than the Cap Rate, the Index Credit is equal to the Index Return. If the Index Return is negative and is within or equal to the Buffer, then the Index Credit will be positive and equal to the same percentage of the negative Index Return, not limited by the Cap Rate. Otherwise, if the Index Return is negative and exceeds the Buffer, then the Index Credit is equal to the negative Index Return in excess of the Buffer.
Step Rate Plus	If the Index Return is between zero and the declared Step Rate, then the index credit is equal to the Step Rate. If the Index Return is greater than the Step Rate, the index credit is equal to the greater of the Index Return multiplied by the Participation Rate or the Step Rate. If the Index Return is negative, but less than or equal to the buffer, the index credit is zero. Otherwise, the index credit is equal to the negative Index Return in excess of the buffer. There is no maximum amount of index credit with this strategy.
Tiered Participation Rate	If the Index Return is between zero and the declared Tier Level, then you receive 100% of the Index Return up to that Tier Level. If the Index Return is greater than or equal to the declared Tier Level, the index credit is the sum of the Tier Level Index Return multiplied by the Participation Rate for the first tier and the remaining Index Return multiplied by the Participation Rate for the second tier. If the Index Return is negative, but less than or equal to the buffer, the index credit is zero. Otherwise, the index credit is equal to the negative Index Return in excess of the buffer. There is no maximum amount of index credit with this strategy.
Performance Lock	Lock in performance prior to the Index Strategy End Date by either setting an automatic Performance Lock target, which will automatically lock at the Performance Lock Value as of the close of business on the day the target is met, OR manually lock in the Performance Lock Value as of the current day's close of business. ²

Please note that when you allocate to an Index Strategy that is linked to the performance of an ETF you are not investing in the ETF. Index-based ETFs seek to track the investment results of a specific market index. Due to a variety of factors, including the fees and expenses associated with an ETF, an ETF's performance may not fully replicate or may, in certain circumstances, diverge significantly from the performance of the underlying index. This potential divergence between the ETF and the specific market index is known as tracking error.

² After a Performance Lock has occurred, funds remain allocated to the Index Strategy, but you no longer participate in the index performance, either positive or negative, for the remainder of the existing index strategy term. The Performance Lock Value will not fluctuate for the remainder of the index strategy term unless there is a withdrawal, partial reallocation, or benefit charge. You are able to reallocate the full Performance Lock Value to a new Index Strategy upon your next Index Anniversary.
